Vote YES to Protect $1 Billion in Critical Funds

by Eric Martin

Facing a severe budget crisis due to the recession, the 2009 Oregon legislature voted to balance the budget through a combination of budget cuts, reserve funds, federal dollars, and targeted tax increases on corporations and wealthy households.

Now, corporate interests and anti-tax groups have managed to get the tax increases on the ballot in a January 26 special election, threatening the balanced budget and potentially triggering nearly $1 billion in cuts to critical services.

The measures are Measures 66 and 67. Measure 66 raises taxes on household income above $250,000, and eliminates taxes on the first $2,400 of unemployment benefits. Measure 67 raises the $10 corporate minimum income tax for the first time since 1971.

YES VOTE

A Yes vote upholds the targeted tax increases.

NO VOTE

A No vote rejects the increases and will force deep cuts to critical services.

Obviously, ACCBO supports Ballot Measure 66 & 67, as do many social service organizations.

93% of the state budget pays for critical services, such as: police, DOC, parole/probation, healthcare, services to Oregon's most vulnerable residents, including people in poverty, the elderly and those with disabilities. These vital services also include schools, mental health and addiction treatment services.

Additionally, state funds are used to leverage federal matching funds. In other words, these measures will help bring money in to the state. ($733 million in target taxes + $267 federal matching funds = up to $1 billion).

Here are some of the facts on the campaign.

1. The opposition to these measures is being led by corporate lobbyists and special interests. It's estimated that they may collect up to $7 million for the campaign against Ballot Measure 66 & 67.
2. The Vote Yes For Oregon campaign will need lots of support from volunteers in order to surge a successful grassroots effort.
3. More than 97.5% of taxpayers won't pay a penny more under these measures.

What can you do? read inside...

What can you do to help 66 & 67 pass? Here's a list of things you can do!

1. Get educated. Learn the facts so you can speak objectively and factually about these Ballot Measures. You can do this by completing the No-cost Two Hour training on the ACCBO website. The free CEH's are based on Principle 12 of the ACCBO Code of Ethics, which encourages CADC's to advocate for legislation that increases treatment opportunities for our clients. www.ACCBO.com

Principle 12 Homestudy: Volume Three

2. Pledge to Vote Yes at www.VoteYesForOregon.org. This will help the campaign spend money more efficiently on people who need to be persuaded. Additionally, you can make a donation to Vote Yes For Oregon if you're able, so they can talk to more voters.

www.voteYesForOregon.org

3. Participate in the weekly "Each one - Reach one" campaign. You will commit to learning about these Ballot Measures and reach out to one person a week to objectively discuss the Ballot Measures running all the way up to January 26th.

"Each one-Reach one"

4. Post "Yes on 66 & 67" signage in your windows, stickers on your car etc.

Like-minded groups

5. Get like-minded organizations and groups to pledge their support for Ballot Measure 66 & 67.
